CustomIngredient

Your customer chooses, you "compose" appetizing snacks: With the RetailApp CustomIngredient you combine various ingredients for pizza toppings or sandwiches or you create own fruit drinks.

The RetailApp CustomIngredient automatically comes up when calling up a CustomIngredient article. Intuitive operator prompting allows combining ingredients in many different ways. Moreover, prices for individual ingredients may be specified. Furthermore, operator prompting actively supports the selling process via predefined process steps and by offering various combinations. CustomIngredient for customized product combinations.

Functionalities

- Definition of selection options and process steps for CustomIngredient articles
